Dear Madam/Sir,

My name is Molly Roberts and I am 10 years old. At school it is Science Week and it has come to my attention that there is way too much plastic packaging for the food we buy. Like how a lot of fruit and vegetables are in pots and packaging. Why can't you let people have a paper bag to put the things they want in or one plastic pot to put all their fruit and vegetables in? I am sure you can agree with me when you realise that this is hurting nature, for example if a bird finds a net it will think it is food, feed it to its babies and accidentally killed its child or get tangled up. This is making me angry now. You need to change this because time is running out for the planet.

Don't think I am just mad with you because I am not: I am mad with every food shop for not making a change. I am part of the Eco Club at school and we are making a plastic picture made from bits of plastic. As a last question, I was wondering would you try and make something with the plastic you don't need (just a thought, you don't need to but I thought it would be nice for your customers and show that you're aware that things need to change). My school (All Saints Matlock) is hoping you will actually think of nature. I told my class I would be writing to you they think it is a great idea!!!

Hope you do something about it.

Yours sincerely Molly Roberts
